ADOLESCENCE 360 HEALTH OUTREACH — PROJECT —

INTRODUCTION

Adolescence is a critical stage of human development marked by significant physical, emotional, and psychological changes. For many young people, especially those in Junior High School (JHS), this period can be confusing and challenging when they lack access to accurate, age-appropriate information about their bodies and health.

In many school environments, conversations around puberty, menstrual hygiene, and adolescent health are often limited or surrounded by stigma. As a result, students may rely on peers or unreliable sources for information, which can lead to misconceptions, anxiety, and unhealthy behaviours. Addressing these gaps through structured educational engagement is essential to supporting young people in navigating adolescence with confidence and responsibility.

In response to this need, the All-Africa Students Union (AASU) seeks to organize “Adolescence 360 Health Outreach Project” on May 28, 2026. The initiative will provide a comprehensive, youth-friendly platform to educate adolescent boys and girls on puberty, menstrual hygiene, and general adolescent health through interactive discussions and learning sessions at A. M. E Zion ‘D’ JHS, Winneba, Central Region.

The outreach will adopt a holistic approach focusing on the full spectrum of adolescent wellbeing, including physical health, hygiene, emotional awareness, and responsible decision-making.

OBJECTIVES

The project aims to:

- Increase awareness and understanding of puberty among adolescent boys and girls.
- Promote menstrual hygiene awareness and education, helping to reduce stigma and misconceptions.
- Provide accurate and age-appropriate information on adolescent health and bodily changes.
- Encourage positive health practices and responsible behaviour among young people.
- Create a safe and engaging environment where students can ask questions and discuss adolescent health issues openly.

EXPECTED OUTCOME

The project aims to:

- Improve students' knowledge and understanding of puberty and adolescent health.
- Reduce misconceptions and stigma related to menstruation and bodily changes.
- Promote positive hygiene practices and healthy lifestyle choices.
- Increase students' confidence in discussing adolescent health topics responsibly.
- Strengthen community awareness of the importance of adolescent health education in schools.

ABOUT AASU

Established in 1972, the All-Africa Students Union (AASU) represents over 170 million students across Africa. AASU champions quality education, democratic governance, gender equality, and sustainable development. Its strength lies in its diversity, which represents students from myriad backgrounds and beliefs. AASU's core activities are focused on a broad range of issues that affect students, including but not limited to the 7 Strategic Priorities of the Union - Education & Students' Rights, Capacity Building, Gender Advocacy, Environment & Climate Action, Pan-Africanism & African Culture, Migration & Mobility, Democracy & Good Governance. The Union is wholly student-run and student-led, autonomous, representative, and operates according to democratic principles.

In 2000, the UN awarded AASU in recognition of the Union's efforts to advance students' rights and champion the democratisation of education across the African Continent.
